Counter with antimicrobial top & transport box on wheels

expandmedia.com

A counter that is easy to travel with

The Expand PodiumCase is a transport box on wheels, where you can pack all your things. On location, you easily turn it into a spacious counter. It provides a large surface for food sampling and for your customers to gather around at your event.

To create the counter, just open the box and put on the table top. Cover the front with a graphic wrap with your message or logo.

The food sampling top

The BioCote® protected top is perfect for food companies who need a clean and sanitary surface to serve food and beverage samples. Creates a hygienic surface and provides secondary support to existing cleaning regimes and fight against contamination.

What does BioCote® Technology do?

BioCote Technology creates surfaces upon which microbes do not survive.

The top contains the active ingredient Silver, which damages bacteria and prevents the growth of mold and fungi.

The Protec+™ technology, developed by BioCote® eliminates contamination that is found on untreated surfaces.

On the inside, there are detachable shelves, which provide you with lots of storage space.
